They're the champs!

Elk Point Golf and Country Club named their 1987 champions Sunday, after an 18-hole finals tournament which endured miserable morning weather and later basked in afternoon sunshine.

Ed Soldan narrowly edged Bill Milholland to win the Men's Championship by a single stroke, while an identical edge gave Pearl Bespalko the Ladies' Championship over Liz Poitras. John Gusnowski was named the Senior Champion with Leon Babcock his closest competitor.

Junior Champion for the 13 and over age group was Albert Lim, who totalled just one stroke below runner-up Blaine McLaughlin. In the 12-and-under group, Justin Conrad scored a 96 to take home the trophy, while Mark Woytkiw was runner-up.

Trophies went to the winners of the championship flights, while all flight winners received $20 gift certificates and all runners-up received $10 gift certificates from Work Wearhouse.

Other flight winners were as follows: Men's First Flight: 1 - Homer Poitras, 2 - Garry Krawchuk. Men's Second Flight: 1 - Riel Goheen, 2 - Robert Bespalko. Men's Third Flight: 1 - Orest Sereda, 2 - Ervin Quinney. Ladies' First Flight: 1 - Darlene Sereda, 2 - C. Poitras. A number of novelty prizes for such talents as the shortest drive, most strokes on a hole, etc., were also presented.

The tournament ended with a sumptuous Chinese buffet, donated by Dennis Lim and enjoyed by all.

For your information

What would YOU like to know about Elk Point, but are not quite sure who to ask? Want to join a youth, sports, or service group? Want to find out about night courses, Sunday School, Parent Nursery? Have we got the place for you!

Elk Point's Third Annual Information Night, jointly sponsored by the Family and Community Support Services, Lioness Club and Further Education Council, is scheduled for Wednesday, September 23, beginning at 7:00 p.m. in the Community Services Centre, two blocks north of 50 Avenue, between 50 and 51 Streets.

Clubs of all kinds, service groups and community agencies will have displays at Information Night, and some groups will be taking registrations for their winter programs and activities at the time.

Come one, come all, and find out more than you would ever expect to know about Elk Point.

CUTTING DOWN THE CRUISING SPEED — Of motorists in the 51 Street school zone, Elk Point RCMP had the assistance of a radar device which flashes the speed of oncoming vehicles on a screen, for those who just can't believe they were going that fast. Several motorists in a hurry were handed warnings that school zones and speed just do not mix.

New aspect for Ag Society

The addition of a committee dealing with agricultural events such as horse and cattle shows has brought a welcome new aspect to the Elk Point and District Agricultural Society.

Representatives of the new interest group were present at the Society's annual meeting last week, and were heartily welcomed by President Glen Harms: "We want you here, we want you involved", Harms stated, calling the new idea a "really big step for the Ag. Society". "I'm all for our society taking on more aspects," he added.

The new committee, chaired by Charlene Baker and consisting of Glen Flanders, Dave Kenyon, Jackie Aarbo, Harvey Aarbo and Leigh Babcock, hopes to use the arena for horse and possibly cattle shows, and to eventually add other facilities such as a warm-up ring. The committee also feels they would like to hold some event of an agricultural nature in conjunction with the fair each year.

The Society returned Glen Harms to the chair of president for a second term, with Glen Flanders as first vice-president and Charlene Baker as second vice-president. Orest Capjack retained the post of treasurer, while Harvey Aarbo, with the assistance of his wife Elaine, will take on the secretarial role.

Harms thanked outgoing secretary Sharil Baumgardner for an "absolutely outstanding" job in 1986-87.

Directors for the coming year include Del Smith, Henry Roscoe, Margaret Modin, Tony Hawryluk, Dave Kenyon, Lucille Smith, Bill Jennissen, Larry Demchuk, Leigh Babcock and representatives of minor hockey, figure skating, broomball and commercial hockey teams.

Shirley Harms will chair the Booth Committee, with Diap

Hawryluk and Betty Poitras as members. Larry Demchuk will lead the Sign Committee.

The Society reviewed their financial position, which thanks to the Western Lottery grant, is quite optimistic at the present. The final instalment on the loan taken out when the arena was built, has been paid, with only a $1500 loan on the artificial ice remaining.

Plans for future expansion of the arena, with the addition of Water woes again

The best laid plans of the Town of Elk Point have been foiled by Mother Nature. The busy beaver population, along with a dry spring and summer, have resulted in low water levels in Atimoswe Creek, which are preventing Public Works employees from initiating their fall water pumping operations at the Town reservoir.

Various methods of getting the water flow underway again were discussed at Town Council's regular meeting Monday. Hook Lake, west of Elk Point, has a high water level, but attempts to let the water go by tearing out dams at the lake outlet did not make an appreciable difference.

It will be necessary to either dig a trench from the lake to an unobstructed portion of the creek, or to lay pipe and pump the water approximately 400 feet. This later procedure was followed in 1981, the last time the water level problem was this severe.

The County of St. Paul has indicated that they would be willing to clear a strip of brush and construct a trench, which would be a long-term solution. Council also passed a bylaw which would authorize entering into an agreement with the Department of Environment to rent the pump and pipe if that solution becomes necessary due to time constraints.

Another bylaw was placed on hold pending further discussion of a mutual aid fire fighting agreement with the County of St. Paul. Councillors Bob Smith, John Hutton and Bill Ference, along with Reeve Robert Bouchard, will be invited to the September 21 Committee Of The Whole meeting to review proposed changes.

All three readings were given to a bylaw amending Recreation Bylaw 455/87, which changes the number of Recreation Board members from 5 to 7. The new Recreation Board will hold their first meeting this evening.

Second and third readings were given to Bylaw 463/87, following the receipt of ministerial approval for the closure of a portion of 52 Street, south of 50 Avenue. Work will commence immediately on the transformation of this area into a park which will be the site of Elk Point's historical mural.

Town Administrator Pat Vincent reported that 88.2 per cent of Elk Point's total tax roll had been collected before September 1, at which time penalties totalling $7,682.28 were added to the $115,135.75 outstanding balance. Vincent feels that a large portion of this balance will be paid during September.

Two requests pertaining to taxes were received by Council. A request for tax exemption on the former nurses' residence at Elk Point Municipal Hospital was turned down, as the medical clinic now occupying the building is viewed by the Town as a business.

The second request was from the St. Paul and District Co-op, requesting waiver of penalty on their late payment of taxes. This was also denied, due to Town policy.

A proposed sidewalk project on 50 Avenue will require removal of six trees located on Town property. Alternate homes for the trees were discussed, with Council agreeing to offer some to the Ukrainian Orthodox Church, to be moved at the church's expense, and the balance to be relocated on Town park sites.

The prospect of a by-election to fill the vacancy on Council was again explored, with a motion to have a by-election defeated by a 4-2 margin.

Gymnastics Club news

The Elk Point and District Gymnastics Club is underway again! This will be another successful year.

The purpose of the club is to provide recreation for the members and to promote and provide for development of gymnastics skills and physical fitness of its members.

The Club's Board of Directors consists of: Doug Huskins - President, Debbie Lou Huskins - Vice-President, Barb Croteau - Secretary, Joyce Spence - Treasurer, Marg Young - Director, Connie Stone - Director, Donna Bassett - Director.

Instruction will be given again by Mrs. Val Weibe, a certified Level I instructor, with her assistants Wendy Lorenson, Shaun Giroux and a volunteer from last year's program.

The first session commences on Thursday, Oct. 1 - Dec. 3 — 4:30 - 5:30, 4 and 5 year olds; 5:30 - 6:30, 6, 7, 8 and 9; 6:30 - 7:30, 10 and up.

The second session will begin on Jan. 7 - Mar. 17, at the same times.

As Mrs. Weibe determines the level of ability, classes will be reformed based on skills rather than age. However, a child must be 4 by the first class, Oct. 1.

The deadline for registration is September 25 - all fees must be paid by that date in order to reserve space in the classes. Fees are $25.00 per child per session. The family rate is $20.00 per child if three or more children are involved. The registration fees include membership in the Elk Point and District Gymnastics Club, membership in the Alberta Gymnastics Federation, liability insurance for all members, and janitorial fees at the Elk Point Elementary School.

Last year there was an ongoing problem with children coming very early for their classes, and roughhousing on the stages. This disrupts the ongoing class and the children do not receive their paid hour. We urge the parents to not allow the children to enter the gym more than 5 minutes early. Any children who are not registered in a class or who will not adhere to the rules will be asked to leave the school property. We also urge parents to not bring younger siblings. We understand the difficulties with this situation, as most of us have younger ones, but Mrs. Weibe cannot properly instruct her class with activity and commotions in the background.

A schedule will be drawn up to inform the parents who will be needed to assist to insure the above request is enforced. And please remember, check the list and if you are unable to take your turn, give someone a call to take your place. The instructor cannot instruct and monitor the stage and halls.

The school has a right to deny us the use of the gym and equipment if we cannot abide by the rules.

For more information call - Debbie Lou Huskins, 724-4314.

And don't forget our Information Night at the F.C.S.S. Building on September 23. Come and register!

dressng rooms for hockey and figure skating and a small recreation hall for warm-ups, were discussed. President Harms noted a need to modernize and expand, in order to keep people using the facility. He said last year's addition of new boards and plexiglass was a "very aggressive project", and one of the "quality moves" toward making the facility "first class".

Bill Jennissen reported that the Elks Hockey Club has begun organizing for the year, although if sufficient players are not found, the club could take a year's absence from the Centennial League and play as a non-contact commercial team.

who will vie for the honors at the Miss Edmonton Pageant on Wednesday, September 23.

Miss McCowan, a 1985 graduate of F.G. Miller High School, is presently in her third year of International Elementary Education at the University of Alberta. When she graduates, she hopes to teach overseas, possibly in a developing country. Her interest in the children of other lands has been fueled by her involvement with the Canadian Save The Children's Fund, Elk Point Branch. Her many other interests include a love of classical music.

The last few weeks have been hectic for Miss McCowan and the other seven finalists, with wardrobe fittings, hair styling, and personal appearances. This past weekend, the girls took part in a fashion show at Kingsway Mall, followed by an appearance at the Edmonton Eskimos pre-game rally at Clark Stadium. Tonight, Miss McCowan will appear on the 5:45 p.m. CFRN television news, with weatherman Eric Neville. Then, more personal appearances, interviews, taping of the speeches, and rehearsal for the pageant.

The pageant will appear on CFRN TV on Wednesday, September 23, time to be announced. The winner will go to Toronto the week of October 19.

Putting 'ag' back in the Ag Society

Three cheers for those responsible for a move to put agriculture back into the mandate of the Agricultural Society!

The existence of an agricultural society which administered the local ice sports and bench fair, and whose only visible connection with agriculture was a few sheaves of hay and pints of grain at that same fair, has no doubt puzzled many of the newcomers to Elk Point, who wondered why it bore that name. Why not the Ice Society?

Those with longer roots in the district will remember that less than 10 years ago, the Ag. Society held an indoor rodeo, and such events as a gymkhana in conjunction with the Fair, which, incidentally, was held in the arena in those days. Even more recently, the Ag. Society sponsored a rodeo at Whitney Lake, until it became evident that this was not a great money maker. From that time on, the agricultural aspect has been largely forgotten.

Now, it's back, and revitalization is about to take place. Gymkhanas, horse and cattle shows are in our future.

With this kind of help, it could be possible for our local 4-H clubs to host district and regional shows. Workshops, seminars and courses on agriculturally related topics could be sponsored. With the enthusiasm that truly interested people could generate, we would even end up with a facility for outdoor rodeos and race meets, which would bring many tourists to our area.

Certainly, the ice sports are very important to this district. All winter, the arena is the second home to vast numbers of adults and children alike, your editor included. However, for this facility to sit empty from April to October seems a waste to many of us.

Finally, the annual spring and summer hibernation of the Elk Point and District Agricultural Society is over. Let's all support its move to wake up and reenergize!

Elk Point goes to Rome

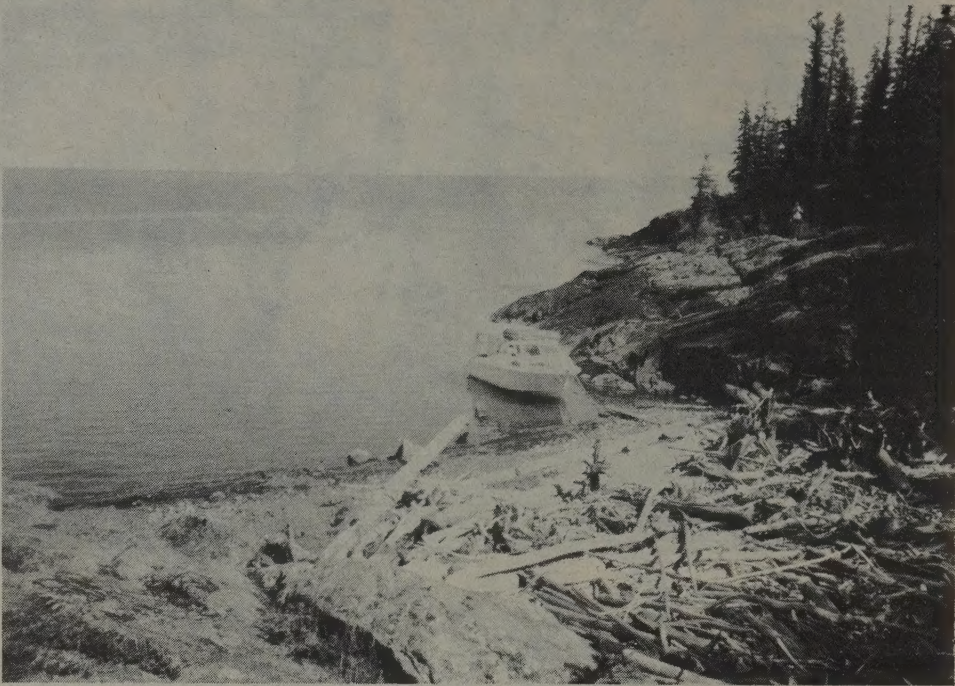

At the World Athletics Championships in Rome, Ben Johnson (the fastest man in the world) didn't carry a home town sign, but I did. The crowd of 50,000 at the Olympic Stadium for the opening ceremonies saw that Elk Point was there to compete. The town pins were "hot" items and preferred by spectators over Canadian team pins.

In the 10 kilometre race walk event the course travelled into the streets of Rome and finished with a final lap in the stadium. Forty competitors battled it out and several collapsed due to heat exhaustion. Having been ranked 26th in the world prior to the race, I was very pleased with my 14th place finish and fastest time ever.

I could not have accomplished this without the support of my husband, Bill and the people of Elk Point. I have never received more encouragement and enthusiasm from so many people. Keep supporting your athletes Elk Point, I'm sorry to be leaving such a positive atmosphere.

Special thanks to my physio Moyra Holliday, training partner Holly Burton and Scott's babysitters.

Alberta Trails

More excursions

By Irene Magnusson

We were waiting around a few days for a man to rent us his boat trailer, so Mel could get the motor fixed. The man was away, so we made short trips, using only the good motor. One was west from Ft. Chipewyan, up a stream to a place called "Chenal des Quatre Fourches," which is pronounced (roughly) "Cat Foosh", and means Four Rivers.

The whole area seems to be a delta, with streams here and there, and grass / willows / rushes between. And in place there are rocky hills, with trees between, and a few islands — at least one with dogs on it. The stream we chose was very deep, showing around 40 to 50 feet on the depth sounder. We followed a side stream, coming to tall red rocks, a beautiful sight, with a cut in the side looking like a door, and I was tempted to say "Open, Sesame!" when we approached. There was a regal birch tree, growing up from the foot of the cut, and a man-made sign below it, but we couldn't read it from the boat, too shrouded.

We stayed near this area for a time, admiring the view and taking pictures, then returned to the lake, and tried for a fish, but they were not having our lures. We followed the orange sunset back to the docks of Ft. Chip. We saw several kingfishers along our way, dipping down along the shore.

On the following day we went with Mel to visit an old acquaintance, Horace Wylie, now 80 years, who lived along the shore about a mile from our docks. Following the well-worn path, we climbed over huge gray and red rocks, along a chain-girded trail up a steep cut, past a lovely garden (well fenced) with a large house behind, where a man worked among his flowers, up steps and down, past the huge empty (save for two priests, we were told) rectory, past the Catholic church, with its windows boarded up, spoke to a Father in a small neat garden — again, fenced in with eight-foot high chicken wire fencing, with a couple of rows of barbed wire along the top. What were they fencing out? I did wonder. Deer? Bear? People?

A side excursion up past the schools, to a bush road, showed us a spring oozing up in the rut of the road, trickling down the sloping trail, and away into the ditch.

We came to Mel's friend's place, and admired his well kept yard and garden, saw the scentless camomile around it, the wild onions on the hillside below. A neighbor of his came by to chat, a retired teacher, (I believe the name was Lloyd Gilbert) and - small world - said he had gone to school with Clifford and Eugene Magnusson (my nephews) at Ashmont School, all those long, long years ago!

After our visit, we returned to the boat for lunch. Later we went to the large pier, and saw a tugboat bring in three houses on barges, from Radium City, they said, which is way at the far end of that long lake. They would return for another load, then take the lot of them down the river north to the Slave, and on to Fitzgerald, near the Alberta/N.W.T. border.

The very high water, now returned to a lower 'normal', had left a houseboat high'n'dry on shore. We watched as a tractor with dragline and dozer blade push-pulled big flat boat into the bay again.

This being Heritage Day, stores were closed, and all day boats came in, loaded with people, from their celebrations over at Old Fort Bay, across the lake. In the evening, a "Tea Dance" was planned, with drummers and singers. Mel and Aline went off to hear this, but I was tired from our climbings, and went to bed.

On another day, leaving Mel and Aline to visit as they wished, I walked to the beach park, where the high waves had smoothed and cleaned, polished the granite rocks, left only the old hulk of a boat, and a twisted driftlog. I followed the crushed rock path, up to the diggings, and to the Cairn. I saw a huge boulder with a bolt and ring imbedded in it, for tying boats to, before there were docks, along the shore. I also saw the steep bank bright with the gold of toadflax, and below them, wild raspberries tempted me, red on their little foot-high bushes.

Later, still waiting, we went to Jerry and Frieda Voyageur's home, visited, and admitted their lovely lawn and flowers, from the balcony of their home overlooking the lake.

We went to Potato Island, a small, tall island about five miles from Ft. Chip. We found an inlet, filled with driftwood and sand, went ashore to explore. Here, as Mel sun-warmed himself on the beach, Aline and I climbed the rocks, found wildflowers and gorgeous mosses and lichens, and fascinating driftwood. I picked up a diamond willow pole, put it in the boat, and we used it for shoving off shore, as it was longer than the paddle. (Later, at home, Mel threw it out in my yard — I now have, possibly, the only diamond willow clothesline pole, polished by the sands of Lake Athabasca, in the country).

Another day, we went early up into the delta flats, and into a smallish river, just to cruise about. Clouds were fantastic, against the blue sky, and we doted on small perfect evergreens, as seen on the hilly shores, making little parks. Yes, there were some rock hills, before we came to the very flat delta marshes.

We fished again, but again caught none. We did see other boats come in, men dragging bags of fish. When we asked "What luck?" they replied, "Just dog food." And that is what they feed their dogs.

Next to the docks, there is a fish packing plant, closed in summer, but where there are many pounds of fish processed in winter, for the gourmet tables of restaurants and hotels. "But no jacks," the men said, "We throw them back. Only pickerel." So some folks are very picky.

UCW news

By Grace Pinder

The United Church Women held their monthly meeting on Sept. 2, after a summer recess.

The meeting was called to order by President Irene Miller and she welcomed everyone back. The secretary and treasurer read their reports and they were adopted as read.

We have a second order of the U.C.W. 25th anniversary pins. Anyone wishing to buy one contact Grace Pinder.

We also have the 1988 Heritage Books by Edna McCann. These will be selling at our annual bazaar which will be held two weeks earlier this year, on Nov. 14. The rummage store is open for fall sales on Sept. 18 - Oct. 2 and 16. We have some good winter jackets and coats on hand.

Don't discard your old glasses, bring them to us and we will send them to the mission fields where they can be reground for the needy people. We are also in need of old stamps.

Our meetings will be held the first Wednesday of each month in the church hall.

In Memoriam

In Memoriam
ANDERSON, Rolf
In loving memory of our dear grandpa Rolf Anderson, who passed away September 18, 1986.

By Kelly Ballas
Grandpa was a jolly man,
Until that certain day.
Grandpa was a jolly man,
Until he went away.
I know that he is happy,
In heaven up above,
But I want him to know,
My heart is filled with love.
My heart is filled with love,
And it's all for him,
For when he went away,
The lights, they all went dim.
The lights went dim,
And will not shine,
Until dear grandpa,
Again you'll be mine.
Love: Kelly, Amanda, B.J. &
Christee

ANDERSON, Rolf
In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather Rolf
Anderson, who passed away
September 18, 1986.
His smiling way and pleasant face
Are a pleasure to recall,
He had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all.
Some day we hope to meet him,
Some day, we know not when,
To clasp his hand in the better land,
Never to part again.
Forever loved and always remembered by Pearl and family.

Sport boost

By Irene Magnusson
St. Paul Constituency MLA John Drobot was on hand, at the F.G. Miller High School on Tuesday, September 8, to present a welcomed cheque of $1000 to members of the school's volleyball team, for needed equipment.

Principal Bob Tredger expressed appreciation from the school, as students David Hellquist and Danny Maas accepted the grant from the Alberta Sports Council on behalf of the F.G. Miller High School Volleyball Team. The equipment purchased are volleyball standards, metal towers used to support the nets. These will also be used in badminton games, etc.

The F.G. Miller volleyball team competes in Zone and Provincial games, as well as day-to-day skirmishes for practice, exercise and fun.

Pioneer Circle plans for expansion

By Irene Magnusson
Top dog on the agenda were building plans, as the general membership meeting of the Elk Point Pioneer Circle convened, at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, September 8, with some 20 odd persons present.

The only trouble was - no members of the Building Committee were present. Chairman Mike Palinka stated that the special Building Fund now stands at $1700, a far cry yet from the many thousands of dollars needed for the proposed expansion of the Drop-In Centre. All donations will be gratefully received by any executive member, who are Mike Palinka, president, Margaret Clark, secretary, and Erika Bender, treasurer. In the (tragic) event the building plans fall through, all funds will be returned to the donors ... but there is high hope the much needed expansion will go ahead.

Plans and alternative plans must be prepared, permits obtained, blueprints made, funds raised. And when a determined group, with the combined experience, capabilities and needs of the seniors of Elk Point, undertake to do something, there is little doubt they will succeed, if all do their part.

Reports from Treasurer Bender showed the club's finances in good shape, bingos going strong, accounts paid. Dance Committee member Mabel Dumont submitted leftover funds from the past season's dances, with plans for the up-coming months ahead. She plans dances for the last Saturday of each month, commencing with September 26, hall open at 8:00 p.m.

Violet McFadyen reported the Seniors' Survey is finished, with results expected in early fall. It has gone reasonably well.

Volunteers in the group were urged to attend the Appreciation Night, Sept. 9, and groups are invited to attend the Information Night, at the FCSS Building, September 23, at 7:00 p.m. A Networking Seminar for Seniors was announced, in Grand Centre's Seniors' Drop-In Centre, September 21, at 9:30 a.m., all invited.

A receipt from Elk Point Fire Department's "Jaws of Life Fund" Committee, acknowledging the Pioneer Circle's donation of $100, was noted. President Palinka pointed out the flag, newly hung, in green, gold and blue, with elk, which has been presented to the group by the Town of Elk Point, the official flag of the area.

Members interpreted the flag as depicting green of forest, yellow of grain fields, blue of water, the points and the elk being hints of its origins - Elk Point.

A Flea Market was proposed for the 23 of October, 1 to 4 p.m., with coffee served, as last year. Anne Buck has donated an afghan to be raffled, for the building fund, which was gratefully accepted.

Summer reading program fun

By Michelle Lukevich

The spies of the summer reading program have hung up their detective hats and retired for school once again. Summer has passed by extremely quickly this year with the help of the Summer Reading Program. All the kids were a pleasure to work with and made my summer much more enjoyable.

Participants in the elementary program were Tanya Pankiw, Michelle Pankiw, Randy Lett, Jaime Franson, Russel Dale, Jason Pankiw, Darcy Pankiw, Reagan Croteau, Matthew Vincent, Carina Tripp, Lara Huskins, Jeff Lypka, Christa Lypka, Chris Melnyk, Kara Serniak, Lisa Lesyk, Connie Lim, Claudia Naber, Derek Pigeon, Irwin Easthope, Melissa Easthope, Rene Ringuette, Chris MacKay, Ryan Stone and Jennifer Rae.

In the pre-school program, participants involved were Naomi Lentz, Thomas Lentz, Julie Whiffen-Peters, Raeanne Lett, Matthew Nixon, Terina Nixon, Tyler Vincent, Vicky Kleeberger, Adam Kleeberger,

Over the two months, crafts and stories occupied the children as well as the elementary summer-long treasure hunt. You guys did a great job on de-coding the clues! Short stories were also written by the elementary kids which really displayed their creativity and imaginations.

A special thanks to all the mothers who helped me during craft time. I don't know what I would have done without you! The volunteers, as well as Tina and Virginia, were also an extreme help to me. Thank you for your help when I needed it. I would also like to thank Mrs. Warren and Lisa for judging the coloring posters. To the library board, I want you to know that I appreciate all the valuable experience you have provided me through the summer. I have gained so much by your support and encouragement.

This summer I have learned so much about children through the reading program. I really enjoyed working with kids, help them develop their interests and talents. They have helped make my summer more pleasurable and have assured me that becoming a teacher will be a precious career.

World Literacy Day

The United Nations World Literacy Day, September 8, was marked in St. Paul with a luncheon featuring one of Lakeland College's LEARN tutors, Pastor John McGregor, as guest speaker.

LEARN's St. Paul monitor, Heather Demchuk, told the group that the LEARN program was launched by Lakeland College six years ago, when it was discovered that many of the prospective students wishing to enter Lakeland's upgrading programs lacked a junior high reading ability. The 1981 pilot project involved 15 students. Since then, the project has grown to a point where 210 people were taught by 230 volunteers at 7 community campuses throughout the Lakeland. These students ranged from their late teens to their fifties and came from all walks of life.

MLA John Drobot, a guest at the luncheon, said that World Literacy Day is "a clear indication of the concern existing throughout the world" regarding literacy. He feels "we have to do everything we can to stamp out illiteracy ... and right here at home is a good place to start."

St. Paul Mayor Paul Langevin, in proclaiming September 8 as World Literacy Day in St. Paul, echoed Drobot's sentiments adding that he found the statistics somewhat shocking.

Pastor John McGregor, noting that "communication is a vital part of life", told a success story involving one of his students, a man who for years has struggled with his inabilities, and has now found new meaning in his life, as he learned to read and write.

McGregor quoted the Bible to display the need to use and share the written word, and spoke of the "tremendous blessing" it is for people to be able to read, and subsequently do things for themselves. He encouraged more people to become involved in tutoring those "who really need your help and mine", and added that some "need a special human touch" to help them learn.

The luncheon concluded with the presentation of World Literacy pins to Pastor McGregor, Mayor Langevin and MLA Drobot by Ms. Demchuk.

Volunteers entertained at hilarious musical revue

Approximately a hundred volunteers from Elk Point and area were royally entertained Wednesday night, when the Elk Point Family and Community Support Services hosted a hilarious musical revue, "Upstairs With Some Janes", in their honor.

Actors Tim Yakimec and Ross MacKenzie, actress Iren Bartok and pianist Laurie Fumagalli make up the Leave It To Jane theatre group, based in Edmonton, who performed a rollicking series of sixteen skits in just over an hour's time.

The setting was simple, the props were few, the costume changes were nil. However, this talented foursome took us to a singles' bar, to Cancun, Mexico, to the soap opera world of "Major General Hospital", and back into the forests of Hansel and Gretel by means of their songs and antics.

A champagne glass and a towel turned Tim Yakimec into a bartender, while a silk scarf turned Ross MacKenzie into Calvin Klein. Iren Bartok needed only a dejected look and passive pose to turn her into a baby doll whose only talent was her tiny tears. All three, one with a false nose, one with an outrageous hat and giant box of candy, and one with playboy bunny ears, turned into an all purpose wish-you-well squad. Their versatility is endless, even though they vehemently admonish their audience to remember that "life is NOT a cabaret."

Mayor Byron Mann welcomed the volunteers to the gathering, noting the many projects now underway, and others yet in the planning stages, and thanked them for their contributions which have made a "significant improvement to Elk Point's lifestyle".

FCSS Director Marnie McCowan summed up the feelings of many by saying she had "seldom seen so many special people together in one room".

Volunteers are truly special, and so, fittingly enough was their Appreciation Night.

Horsing around at Spring Park

By Mildren Dunham

Spring Park and surrounding districts spent the lovely weekend "horsing around". Saturday, wagons and riders turned up for a fun ride to reminisce the wagon train trip they took last summer. Everyone brought loads of food for the potluck supper which was enjoyed by all.

After supper, Sid Holte entertained the crowd with his movies of the parade and Canada Day at Elk Point. Most of us got a chance to watch ourselves ride in the parade. Then anyone who took pictures brought them out which were enjoyed and compared. Comments like, "Aren't those nice", and "I want that one", went around for an hour or so. There were a few door prizes handed out, mostly donated by the wagon train artist, "Smoky", who kindly donated his drawings. Pauline and Lane Scott and Pete Gibson provided live entertainment for a little dancing.

Sunday more riders and horse trailers were seen heading for Spring Park to join a few campers already there. They were taking part in the Poker Rally which turned out to be a great success. Ninety-eight riders took part and the winners were as follows in the order of which the prizes were given out:

- Skunk Hand: Don Ballas, St. Paul, skunk trophy.
- 3rd: 3 of a kind "J's" - Morris Irvine, a set of reins, donated by Lyle Robinson.
- 2nd: 3 of a kind "A's" - Clint Scott, a halter, donated by Lyle Robinson.
- 1st: full house - Lee Lavoie, Elk Point, a saddle pad, partly donated by Bit & Spurs of St. Paul. (It was a $100 value sold to the club for $35).
- Oldest Participant: Don Pinder, a buckle.
- Youngest Rider: Lee Lavoie, a buckle.
- Youngest Participant: Cassie Irvine.
- Farthest Away: Grodon Carson and Margie Strundland of Rocky Mountain House.

There were riders from Rocky Mountain House, Lloydminster, Viking, Sherwood Park, Kinsella, Vermilion as well as our immediate districts. Supper was supplied by the Light Horse Saddle Club for all who took part. They wish to thank everyone for helping and everyone for coming out to take part in this enjoyable weekend.

Mural watch

By Billie Lynne Milholland

Nearly everyday I answer a dozen questions about the practical aspects of the mural. It is impressive that so many people are interested in these things.

For all of you who have not yet asked ...

No, it is not being painted on plaster board. I'm using four feet by eight feet crezon board, a material used by sign painters. It is a 1/2 inch plywood material with a plasticized paper laminated to one side to create a smooth surface. The rough back side is sealed with primer. The smooth front side is prepared with six coats of acrylic gesso, applied like plaster in the old way.

Yes, the paint I am using is weather-proof. It is artist quality acrylic that has been specially developed for outdoor art by a reputable chemist in New York. It is the same paint used by Norman Yates, the U of A professor who has just completed the giant mural on the north wall of the education building in Edmonton.

Yes, it will be protected further when it is finished.

First, we will apply an acrylic varnish that will seal in the painting. Over that goes 3 or 4 coats of a solvent based varnish with built-in ultraviolet protectors. This varnish will not yellow and will dry to a very tough finish. Over the years, should any surface damage or petty scribbling occur, those 3 or 4 coats can be removed down to the first varnish without harming the painting beneath.

Yes, it will be displayed outdoors. The plan, is to erect the panels in a graceful curve on the west bank of the creek by the library. All twenty five panels will be shown in one place.

Yes, I still need small yogurt containers, and thank you so much to all the people who have kept me supplied so far.

I went to Edmonton this week to photograph the harvest festival at Fort Edmonton where they put on a threshing demonstration. I rushed out of town last week to take some photos of grain in the field and modern machinery working but I still have not got out to Paul Ruzycski's to take a picture of his cream separator. With any luck I'll do it this week. Thanks Paul.

Thanks again to all the people who have brought me useful items, coffee breaks and welcome encouragement.

Dewberry News

By Phyllis Ewen

The Dewberry Mini Fair was held on August 19th. The day began with a small Horse Gymkana and children's races at the Sports grounds. A bake table and exhibits were open at 3 p.m. At 5 p.m., beautifully decorated bicycles were judged, followed by an enjoyable violin program. Then the pet show at 6 p.m. finished the day. The Senior Citizens served a great lunch in the Curling rink booth. Thanks to everyone for making a great day.

Denise Bowman, daughter of Edsel and Jean Bowman, has created the colorful lettering on the windows of the Dewberry Coffee Shop and Eastalta Co-op Hardware windows. She also did Ken's Auto and Diesel (blue) sign. At present she is working full time at the Blackfoot elevator and hairdressing part-time at London Scene. She is taking an art correspondence course from the States and has always liked doing lettering.

Winners of the Agricultural Society Lottery draws since August 7th are: Roland Dennill, Murray Thronson, Dr. K. W. Tenove, Buddy Bensmiller, and Gus Garnier and Bruce Etherington.

Brian and Holly Holmen and boys spent the month of August holidaying. Their first week was spent at Calling Lake, north of Athabasca, an excellent lake for small children with sandy beaches and shallow water. Here Brian's brother and family from Edson joined them. They travelled south to Bentley to visit for a couple of days, then despite the cool rainy weather, the remainder of the week was spent at Medicine Lake. Here they were joined by Holly's sister and family from Rocky Mountain House. They then returned to Bentley to visit family and friends. Their third week was spent in the Calgary area. They were joined by Brian's cousin and family to spend a day at Calaway Park. From here Brian left, on Friday, for an all expense paid fishing trip to Campbell River, B.C. The trip was made possible through increased sales of chemicals distributed by Sandoz Agro-Chemicals. Brian arrived back Sunday afternoon with four nice salmon, and had a very enjoyable time. While Brian was away Holly and boys visited the Calgary Zoo and Prehistoric Park. They also visited Brian's sister at Innisfail and then went onto Faraway to spend a couple of days with Holly's parents before starting home.

Effective July 27, 1987, Russell Garnier has been appointed Maintenance Foreman for Alberta Transportation at the Dewberry Shop. Russell had been working as acting foreman since the vacancy left by Joe Gartner's death.

Visiting at the home of Win and Alvin Curtis this past summer were her son, Arthur Smyth and wife Betty. Arthur is Vice-Principal at the school at Wildwood, Alberta. While here, they enjoyed a round of golf at the Lea Park course.

Ted Smyth and Elsie, Win's other son from Slave Lake, Alberta spent a few days visiting with them and other relatives at Streamstown. Ted is a surveyor with his own crew. Elgin Gregory from Calgary and his sister Phyllis Goodall from Chauvin, Alberta called for a brief visit.

Alvin and Win Curtis spent a holiday weekend recently at the Louis Riel Campsite at Frog Lake, with the rest of the Curtis Clan. They also enjoyed a visit with Wins niece, Mary and husband Joe Deep, who were camping there also. The Deeps live at Grand Centre, Alberta.

Alvin Curtis's sister, Susie O'Neil from White Rock, B.C. stayed a week with them recently. She enjoyed going to the mini fair, also meeting old friends and neighbours.

Stanley and Anabell Stone, from Valleyview, visited with Alvin and Win Curtis before going on to Vermilion to see Anabell's mother, Ada Lumley and other relatives there. Ada will be celebrating her 89th birthday soon.

Melvin and Cynthia Lumley from Lloydminster, took Melvin's dad, George Lumley for a weekend trip to Grimshaw, to visit his niece, Doris Robertson (Collins).

A speedy recovery is wished to Bob Wilson who had surgery on his back in the Misericordia Hospital.

Clandonald News

By Shirley Osinchuk

The first Bingo of the season at the Senior Citizens' Friendship Centre will be held on Monday, Sept. 21, beginning at 8 p.m.

Congratulations to all the graduates of J.R. Robson High School in Vermilion. The graduation exercises and celebrations were held on Saturday, Sept. 12. Ten of the grads are from the Clandonald area; eight of them graduated from Clandonald school. Emily Bardoe and Arlene Cook live near Clandonald but attended school in Vermilion. Alan Etherington, John Lychak, Blair Nelson, Darrell Nowosad, Michael Podhaniuk, Maria Protsch, Sharon

Thomas and Caroline Yaceyko all attended Clandonald school. We can also lay some claim to Patti Sweeney, granddaughter of Blanche and George Butz, and David Parke, son of Doreen Parke, Clandonald School principal, as well as others among the grads, who are related to Clandonald area families.

The first presentation of the afternoon was by Vermilion-Viking MLA Steve West, of the Alexander Rutherford Scholarships. Alexander Rutherford was the first Premier and first Minister of Education of Alberta. In 1981, the Alberta Government set aside a $100 million endowment fund for this scholarship, which is $300 in Grade 10, $500 in Grade 11 and $700 in Grade 12, for an average of 80% or higher in five specified subjects. Sixteen of the graduating class received the scholarship for Grade 12. Two Clandonald students were in that group: Sharon Thomas and Michael Podhaniuk.

Mrs. Joyce Stewart presented County of Vermilion River County Honour pins to sixteen students, for earning 80% or higher in Grade 12. Darrell Nowosad, Sharon Thomas and Micheal Podhaniuk were in that group.

Michael also was winner of the boys' Grade 12 General Proficiency Award, presented by the B.P.O.E., and runner-up for the O.O.R.P. Citizenship Award.

Emily Bardoe was runner-up for the Heckbert Agencies English 33 Award.

Carol Holmen, from Dewberry and Vermilion, a Grade 12 student this year, was runner-up for the Female Athlete of the year award presented by Kinniburgh Jewellers.

Congratulations to all the students graduating from J.R. Robson.
